

Biography:

Dr Nitik Ram

Obstetrics & Gynaecology Specialist (FIJI)
Mbbs (Hons) MMed(O&G) MBA.
Honorary Lecturer Fiji National University
Assistant Professor University of Fiji

Dr Nitik Ram works as a general obstetrician and gynaecologist at the Colonial War Memorial Hospital, in Suva, Fiji where the hospital has 8000 facility births annually. He has over 14 years of experience at Fiji's largest tertiary hospital and a special interest in high-risk pregnancies, Complex obstetrics surgery, and obstetrics ultrasound training models in a low-resource setting to empower medical officers, residents, and specialists in trimester-specific scanning skills to reduce maternal and foetal morbidity and mortality. He is currently an active researcher in congenital birth defects in Fiji and pre-conception care.

